

Gorefangling

Immature offspring of the more formidable adult Gorefang, the lone Gorefangling presents little threat to anyone or anything. Having dispersed from its parents, a solitary Gorefangling is able to survive primarily off of the rich nebula gasses in which it is found, supplemented by occasionally scavenged detritus. Its outer shell not yet fully hardened, the vulnerable young Gorefangling only attempts to feed off living organisms when driven by starvation. If confronted, a lone Gorefangling typically attempts to hide and only attacks if pursued and provoked.

Locations

Gorefanglings can be found on nebula tiles throughout the universe.
