

Space Maggot

Space Maggots are undoubtedly the easiest prey in the universe. Their slow, sluggish movements, non-existent offensive capabilities, and soft outer membranes their only protection, they provide easy practice for inexperienced pilots looking to hone their skills. Leaving crafts caked with their inner ooze is the only real threat they pose to space pilots, leaving them unfortunately with a very large cleaning bill.

Locations

Space Maggots can be found on or around asteroid tiles all over the universe.
