

Swarm of Gorefanglings

Having dispersed from their parents, many young Gorefanglings travel together in large swarms. Their sheer numbers quickly deplete the vital nutrients found in the nebula clouds in which they live; hence the swarms are usually voraciously hungry and readily attack nearby organisms. Though individually weak, a hungry and persistent swarm of the creatures can overpower a surprisingly large opponent. Occasionally a swarm becomes so thick that a pilot is simply unable to navigate through them, likely suffering a terrible fate as countless Gorefanglings attempt to latch onto and feed from the immobilized spacecraft.

Locations

Swarms of Gorefanglings can be found on nebula tiles throughout the universe.
