

Xhole Monster

Like Wormhole Monsters, Xhole Monsters are the result of energy fluctuations in Xholes opening gateways to worlds unknown. Though their origin is still not understood, the devastation the swarms of these creatures can cause within moments of their coming is unprecedented, making them one of the universe's many serious threats. Despite intense research into the matter, the cause behind the vicious energy fluctuations in Xholes and Wormholes is still not understood, and unfortunately there is still no way to predict when these attacks will occur.

Locations

Xhole Monsters spawn near xholes during the wormhole special event.
