

Young Space Dragon

In the infant stage of their development until they reach approximately 200 years of age, Young Space Dragons are quite vulnerable to the elements that surround them. Their scales yet to fully harden and their wings still unable to propel them at full speed through the cosmos, many infant Dragons fall victim to mortal curiosity, often times wandering from their brood and encountering the many dangers of space on their own.

Locations

Young Space Dragons are found all over the universe, most commonly in dragon dens.
